

Now

With F.M.L.

We never trifled our way to civilization. Preoccupation with hair, skirt length and bad books and movies is peripheral non-involvement.

Essence is why people do or don't do things. Lack of essence is why religion is a one-day-a-week system with corporate holdings, why government is pervasive and resistable, why family is sometimes sharing major consumer purchases, and each sometime little more. If revolution were the answer, these would have been overthrown. The process of change now underway is evolution. And shifting tides are painful to live through, but necessary.

A breaking off in a country is never clean, always bloody and short of its goals.

Alternatives arise out of comparisons made, of measuring and calculating and taking chances and losses, these minimal compared to the cost of revolution. The result may be more far reaching than revolution and lasting.

Patience, ah patience. We know little of that in this country because our material success exceeds our ability to deal with it. Europeans, Orientals and less progressive areas of the world, going our way, know patience and only now learn of modern success with goods and services.

As long as it is hair, skirt length and bad books and movies, they won't change much. But the way things go in this country, we are changing, we are changing. Trifles and all. Some for the better.

Baylor Choir...

Yule Concert Set Here

The 100 member Baylor Freshman Choir will present a program of Christmas music at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, December 8 in the First Baptist Church, Cameron.

Friends of the Cameron Public Library are sponsoring the program which is open to the public.

A section of the Baylor choir presented a Christmas music program for Friends of the Library December meeting last year. It was considered a highlight of the club year and plans were made to bring the acappella choir to Cameron for a similar program this year. The choir is under the direction of Dr. Ewell Porter.

A reception will follow the program with Women of the First Baptist Church and Fleur de lis Garden Club as hosts.

Reserved Auto Tags Ruled Out By Automation

Reserved auto license plate numbers are a thing of the past on regular plates, but special number, name or initial plates may be ordered directly from the Texas Highway Department.

Valter White, county tax collector, said the Texas Highway Department had notified him that because of an automated registration system, no special license numbers may be reserved beginning with the 1971 registration year.

White said regular auto license plates would go on sale February 1.

Personalized license plates should be ordered through the Texas Highway Department. Order forms are available at the County tax office. These plates are limited to 6 letters or numbers, White said. Application fee for the special plates is $10.

White said 13,909 cars were registered in Milam County during 1970.

Say, kiddoes -- Old Santa will be visiting in Cameron on two Saturdays before Christmas, and all you youngsters will have a chance to tell him what you'd like to find under your tree.

He'll be sitting in his sleigh on the courthouse lawn (if it doesn't rain) from 10 to 11 a.m. 1 - 3 p.m., and 5 to 6:30 p.m. December 12 and 19.

If the weather is bad, Santa will visit with children inside the courthouse, in the first floor hall.

Special treats of candy and balloons will be given to all of Santa's little friends.

The pre-Christmas Santa visits are sponsored by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

County Tax Assessor - Collector Valter White said about 80 percent of county taxes have been paid to date. City and Cameron school tax collections, where no early payment discount is allowed, are reported to be slower.

Paul Olbrich, CISD tax officer, said only about 33 percent of the school taxes are in, but he said this is about normal. School taxes were higher this year because the tax rate was changed from $1.50 on 25 percent of actual value to $1 on 50 percent of value.

The school tax roll last year totaled $197,265.29. This year the tax roll is $260,944.71.

City taxes are slightly ahead of normal, according to City Secretary J. P. Fuller. The city tax roll is $116,458.61.

Valter White said $259,713 of the county's $456,026 tax roll had been paid by November 30.

White said voter registration certificates were being returned with tax payments, but said many people had neglected to put their voting precinct number on the registrations. He said the precinct number should be written in a box at the top left corner of the registration certificate.

"When the number is left off our people must go through all the precinct voting lists to complete the form," White said. "If the voter does not know the number of his precinct, he can simply write in the name of the place where he votes."

A history of Robertson County is being published by Texian Press, Waco. It was written by J. W. Baker, longtime Bremond school superintendent, and sponsored by the Robertson County Historical Survey Committee. The book covers a century of Robertson County history, from the 1820's to the 1920's, and is the result of three years of research and work by Baker and members of the book committee, Mrs. Katherine Thompson Galloway, Douglas Adoue McCrary, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jones. The book contains 585 pages with about 400 pictures and maps. Only 750 copies will be available for public sale at $10.

The Hearne Housing Authority is advertising for bids for construction of 30 low income apartments. The new units, with two and three bedrooms, will be built west of the existing housing units in Hearne. Bids will be accepted until 2 p.m., January 6. Plans are available from John Charles Allen of Austin.

Property Bids Rejected

SALADO

Salado school trustees rejected bids on three pieces of school property put on the market in an attempt to raise $25,000 needed to meet current bonds and other school expenses. High bids for the property totaled $22,500, $2,500 short of the amount needed. Salado residents voted down a proposal to merge with Belton schools last year and taxpayers now face a possible tax increase of 50 percent.

New Center Planned

TSTI Program To Honor Poage

A program of day-long activities is being held today (Monday) at the James Connally Campus of the Texas State Technical Institute in tribute to U.S. Rep. W. R. Poage.

The day will be climaxed with a dinner at which former Texas Gov. John Connally will be keynote speaker. Set for 6:30 at Ridgewood Country Club, the dinner will be attended by 300 persons from throughout the United States.

Among those attending from Cameron will be Mayor E. A. Perrin, Narvie L. Caperton, Henry J. Litzman, Robert Ellett, Gene Blake, and Ben Hardie Bailey and son Johnny.

At the dinner, a model of the proposed W. R. Poage Land Technology Center will be explained by representatives of Wyatt C. Hedrick Architects and Engineers, Inc. of Houston and Waco.

The three and a half to five million dollar center will be built on the north side of the James Connally Campus.

Attending the activities Monday will be numerous corporate executives from industry and business as well as several political colleagues of Congressman Poage.

Among the Texas Congressmen slated to attend are: James Wright, 12th Congressional District; Ray Roberts, 4th Congressional District; Clark Fisher, 21st Congressional District; Richard White, 16th Congressional District; Kika de la Garza, 15th Congressional District; Omar Burleson, 17th Congressional District; Robert Casey, 22nd Congressional District; and J. J. "Jake" Pickle, 10th Congressional District.

Cong. Carl Albert of the 3rd Congressional District of Oklahoma and majority leader of the U. S. House of Representatives, and B. F. Sikes of the 16th Congressional District of California have also notified Waco officials they will attend.

Poage is being honored for his outstanding service in Washington in behalf of technical education and agriculture.

The proposed center which will bear his name will include a library, administrative offices, faculty conference areas, seminar and conference rooms, a technical learning center, a covered display area, an auditorium which will seat 1,000, an amphitheater, rural leadership development area and numerous other instructional and departmental functions.

It will be located on approximately 15 acres at the north gate to the Waco campus.

The day's activities get underway early Monday morning when bus loads of high school students, parents and other visitors begin arriving on campus to tour the shops and classrooms. All departments will be open to the public all day.

Gifting The Library...

Cameron Library Friends have five categories of membership still open to contributors.

They are: honorary, $25; supporting, $15; sustaining, $10; individual, $5; and student, $1.

We encourage you to contribute to the Friends of Library membership drive because of the books these contributions buy and other library services enabled by contribution.

About $1,000 has been given,

but the fund drive committee continues to work for support to approach previous years' totals of about $1,350, which means more than $1,000 would go into library fund service and book coffers.

We encourage your gift, if you have not given. The Cameron Public Library is an asset, like schools, too often taken for granted.

It's the Christmas season. Remember your library too.

Every Intelligent Element...

It's good to see Yoe High School catch up with other modern high schools by bringing in college representatives for a "College Night."

It is another improvement needed in the CISD system, one among several implemented this year, including broader emphasis on all sports, construction of a homemaking building, involvement of honor society students in the POW issue and others.

College is not for all people or even most, as we are falsely persuaded at times. But this exposure to the various curricula of 20 institutions will assist students in narrowing their choices for a school or whether they should try technical training of some kind.

The kindest thing advisors can do for students is to head off misguided ambitions or to encourage talent which for some reason needs encouragement.

We say "good for Yoe High School and Principal John Chubb". Yoe High School needs every innovation and intelligent element working for it, like any school system, to give its graduates what is best for them.

Entry Deadline Near For Ft. Worth Stock Show

Officials of the 75th Diamond Anniversary Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 29 through Feb. 7, 1971, anticipate an exceptionally fine livestock show as the final deadline draws near.

Stock Show President - Manager W. R. Watt, in reminding exhibitors of the deadline dates, said, "Based on the entry cards I've seen, this year's show will have more than 11,000 head of livestock. We're happy, too, at the growing number of entries by young people."

Cattle entries include more than 1,000 head of top commercial Hereford heifers consigned to a special show - sell auction. "These heifers represent the best from Hereford breeders in the Southwest," Watt said. "The sale will be an excellent opportunity for farmers and ranchers to pick up top quality replacement heifers for their herds."

Deadline for entries in the cattle, horses, sheep and swine contests is Dec. 15, 1970. Poultry, rabbit and pigeon exhibitors have until Jan. 15, 1971 to submit entries.

Entry cards and premium lists are available by writing Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

As usual, the Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo will be a major attraction of the exposition. Special guest at the 1970 Rodeo will be Judy Lynn and the Judy Lynn Show, a favorite entertainer from such famous Nevada showplaces as Caesars Palace and the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, and Harrah's Clubs in Reno and Lake Tahoe.

More than $80,000 in prize money and entry fees will be at stake for top professional cowboys and challengers at the Rodeo.

CAMERON'S PARADE OF SPORTS

BARREL RACING - Martha Lynn McDermott, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lyle McDermott of Cameron, and Smoky display perfect co-ordination (and concentration) as they go into a turn round the barrel during a FFA Rodeo last fall at Clifton. Barrel racing has become a major part of the modern rodeo, where competition is really keen. The sport requires a lot of practice on the part of both rider and the horse, for the turns must be made at breakneck speed. Notice the action here - horse and rider poised in that delicate balance required for winners.

Will Imitation Bacon Put Hogs Out Of Business?

COLLEGE STATION
Coming events often cast shadows. Could a recent publication from the Economic Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture fit this category? asks Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist.

The report had to do with six months of testing in Fort Wayne, Indiana of a substitute for bacon. The USDA sponsored market test was conducted by a private research company under contract with the manufacturer of the new striplike bacon analog.

Most of the users of the new product found it acceptable but continued to use real bacon, noted Uvacek. It was implied, he said, that this lack of substitution was only a short-run effect and that over the long-haul, continued purchases of the bacon analog might have a permanent substitution effect.

And what was its composition? It contains 14 ingredients -- wheat, soy and yeast proteins, water, corn oil, egg albumen, salt, U.S. certified color, seasonings, monosodium glutamate, vegetable gum, flavorings and nucleotides. The manufacturer's analysis yields 6.3 grams of protein, 3.1 grams of fat, 3.3 carbohydrate, 1.4 ash, .3 of fiber and 14.36 moisture.

Advertising, noted the specialist, pointed to the differences between the analog and bacon. The analog is precooked, does not shrink during cooking, contains little or no cholesterol, and has only one-third the calories of bacon.

The price was held constant at 69-cents for an 8-ounce package containing 32 slices. In contrast, the usual pound package of bacon contains 20 slices. On the basis of, as served, the analog cost was approximately half of that for bacon.

Uvacek said the only bright note in the report was this statement: "Use of data from this market test does not in any way constitute endorsement of the product or process by the Department or imply discrimination against other similar products or processes."

And, concludes Uvacek, in these days of low hog prices and a weakening of returns from feeder calves, such developments are not encouraging.

Preparation Aids Winter Weed Control

COLLEGE STATION
 Next year's cotton yields can be influenced by soil management and weed control practices during the upcoming winter months. Timely land preparation, says Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, is the first step for a successful weed control program.

Uncontrolled winter weeds, he adds, are moisture and plant food robbers, both vital to top production. In addition to regular land preparation, Elliott lists as major weed control methods those that can be carried out with machinery or through the use of chemicals.

The mechanical methods include bedding and rebedding, bed shaping, Roll N' Cultivator, row disk, hipplin' ridger, do-all and in West Texas the bed knitting tool does an excellent job. Elliott says cotton producers have a wide choice of materials available for chemical weed control. Two are soil incorporated herbicides, Planavin and Treflan.

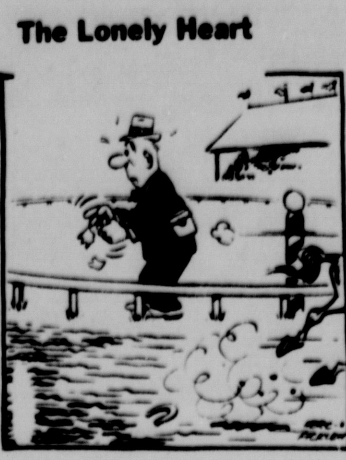

Many growers, he adds, look with considerable favor on these materials and they can be applied beginning in late November or in December in South Texas.

A popular method of application is with the roto-tiller or roto-vator. They may also be incorporated into the soil by broadcast disking with the tandem disks.

These herbicides keep winter weeds under control if conditions are normal until planting time. Under high moisture conditions, he adds, it is often necessary to treat again just before planting for the control of early Johnsongrass. DSMA alone or in combination with a material such as Karmek is excellent.

For those who do not wish to use soil incorporated herbicides, mechanical methods are recommended.

The round purple inspection stamp on beef, veal and lamb is made with edible vegetable dye and need not be removed.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Drugs By The Department Is The Story At Dusek's

When you say drug store, you mean drug department store at Dusek's.

When you say pharmacy, you mean three registered pharmacists - Alvin and son Bernay, and Franklyn Dusek.

A walk through Dusek's is a walk through a departmentalized listing of cosmetic, pharmaceutical and gift notion "who's who." Dusek's has it.

Several ladies are kept busy serving the customers who find what they want.

Just a sampling of what brands are available: Timex watches, Westclox, clocks, Parke - Davis first aid notions, Sheaffer's pens, BIC pens, foster grant sunglasses, Russell Stover and King's chocolates.

Cosmetics, both men's and women's, headline shelves of name brands like: Black Belt, Max Factor, Old Spice, Tussy, Coty's elan, L'Zimant, Imprevu, Emeraude, Revlon, Ogilvie, Jergens, Noxzema, Gillette, Vaseline, Aqua Velva to name a few of the quite-a-few.

Pharmacists Alvin, Franklyn and Bernay stay busy. One clerk helps type orders as the prescriptions are filled by the professionals. Lines of shelves in walls of pharmaceuticals await the need of a doctor's prescription, whatever the ill.

Delivery is to the home, without additional cost, the day you need the prescription. The pharmacy is as professional as gifts and drugs throughout the store are complete.

The usual line of tobacco products, cigars, cigarettes, pipes, pipe tobacco are near the entrance for convenience.

Magazines, newspapers, comics and pocketbooks are available. Christmas and remembrance cards for all occasions by Ambassador and RustCraft await.

Personal articles are also near the front, neatly arranged and gift items like Sunbeam appliances are nearby. Gift items like ashtrays, kitchen bric-a-brac, personal items and notions of all kinds are there.

Yes, Dusek's has it. Only in recent years, the operation expanded into a wider store and the pharmacy department and storage areas were completely remodeled.

An inventory of brandnames and professional pharmacy services are the name of the game. That's why Dusek's has it for pharmaceuticals and departmentalized drugs and notions.

Apparel, Accessories For Christmas at Carousel

Mrs. Denson Rubac, new owner of the newly named Carousel, women's shop, is featuring women's lines of apparel and accessories at 202 North Fannin. Christmas shoppers will find a carousel in the middle of a variety of children's and women's apparel in prices ranging in women's dresses from $10 to $35.

Mrs. Rubac purchased the Back Door Shoppe children and teen clothing shops and established the Carousel in October. Mrs. Lucille Prokisch assists Mrs. Rubac in sales.

The variety of clothing ranges from toddler's to women's styles, dresses, pant suits, new children's lines of various kinds.

The Christmas shopper will find jewelry for juniors and children as well as clothing lines, purses, bags, even "sleeping bags".

Brands among women's clothing selections include knits by Wacket, Mr. Paul of California, Justin-McCarty and Parkland of Dallas.

A complete line of ladies gowns, sleepwear, slips, lingerie, stockings and pantyhose are among Carousel's merchandise.

Any Christmas purchase over $10 is beautifully wrapped free. But gift wrapping is more than putting a "piece of paper and some string" around a package, Mrs. Rubac notes.

"Pant suits are popular this season," Mrs. Rubac says. "And we find that maxis are good for the holiday season, for special occasion. We have several maxi numbers."

Style then is important to Carousel as it is to the style conscious woman shopper at Christmas time.

Mrs. Rubac has business experience a world apart from a children's and women's shop, but managing a large chicken ranch gives her a background for knowing how to run a modern business and make it grow. She is a native of the Milano area.

Mrs. Rubac invites all her friends and customers to view the Carousel's Christmas merchandise. There is a pleasing variety to choose from for style conscious shoppers.

CAROUSEL owner Mrs. Denson Rubac, right, is assisted by Mrs. Lucille Prokisch as they complete holiday decorations for the shop.

Camels To Jets In 25 Years

Jeddah, Saudi Arabia—(HK)—Twenty-five years or more ago, it took 25 to 30 days to travel by camel caravan from this Red Sea port city to Riyadh, the capital, some 660 miles to the east. Today, a Saudi Arabian Airlines DC-9 jet makes the trip non-stop in one hour and 15 minutes.

The story of how the "camel set" gave way to the jet age in Saudi Arabia had its beginning in 1945 with the gift of a DC-3 from President Franklin D. Roosevelt to King Abdul Aziz ibn Saud shortly after the historic wartime meeting of these two heads of state. So delighted was the ruler of the desert kingdom with the gift, that he ordered five more DC-3's, and Saudi Arabia had an airline. Soon realizing that to run an airline takes many trained pilots, mechanics, tower controllers, meteorologists, radiomen and engineers—plus airstrips, hangars, repair shops, sales offices, fueling facilities, financing, record-keeping, planning and initiative—the Saudi Government in 1950 retained Trans World Airlines to help provide these services.

Today, twenty-five years after America's gift of the first DC-3, Saudi Arabian Airlines (SDI) has become the largest commercial carrier in the Middle East, with a total of 26 planes, including four Boeing 707 and 720 jets and four DC-9 jets. Of the 68 captains and 52 first officers on SDI's staff, 30 and 40, respectively, are Saudi nationals, most of them trained in the U.S. under rigorous FAA procedures. SDI has one of the safest flying records of any major carrier. Its planes fly 38,000 route miles, serve 47 cities in 20 countries on 3 continents. The government-owned airline provides employment for more than 3,900 people, a figure almost certain to grow in the years ahead in the fast-developing nation.

A female dragon fly, such as the one that sits on the tip of your rod, will lay up to 100,000 eggs and there are 412 known species of the dragon fly in the United States.

Teen Talk Corner

By Marian C. Holden

It is a lucky girl (or boy) who is not plagued with some skin problems during their teen years. The oil glands are extremely overactive during these troublesome years, leaving the skin with acne. Acne is a disease of the sebaceous (oil) glands. This is a local condition (confined usually to the face, neck, and sometimes the back) and can be controlled with lots of T.L.C. (tender loving care).

If your diet is poor your skin just won't make it. Sweets, creams, fats, white breads, too much starch, soda pop and fried foods must be eliminated from your diet as these help cause overactive oil glands.

Consult your doctor for a good diet and treatment if acne persists or worsens. Plenty of fresh air, at least eight glasses of water a day, proper elimination and daily bathing are necessary for controlling acne.

Check with your druggist as to which acne treatments can be used as a dry wash. Pat the cleanser over the entire face, except for the eye area.

Let it dry, then remove it with a steaming towel. Gentle, very gently without much pressure, remove the blackheads. Now, sponge your face with an antiseptic lotion. I would like to point out the absolute necessity of clean hands; never treat your face if you haven't first thoroughly washed your hands.

Keeping your hair clean is also extremely important for a blemish free complexion. If your hair is oily, shampoo it at least twice a week. For in-between care sponge the hair with cotton dipped in alcohol to remove oil and dirt, especially around the face. Dirty, oily hair causes acne, when worn on the face as today's styles are.

Your face is now ready for a medicated make-up if desired. Ordinary make-up should never be used where there is an acne problem. Better still, just pat on a lotion designed for acne or a simple boric acid solution.

With your T.L.C. your acne problems can practically vanish, you will be pleased with the results.

135-Yr-Old Cabin Given To Baylor U

A 135-year-old log cabin, one of the first built in Falls County, has been given to Strecker Museum at Baylor University.

Recently dismantled at its original site and moved to the museum, the cabin has been re-assembled and is on view to the public.

The cabin was situated on land granted to George W. Morgan by the Mexican government on Sept. 9, 1835, while Texas was a part of the state of Coahuila, Mexico.

By Mexican law, Morgan was required to establish permanent land marks and cultivate the land within one year of the grant to hold the deed.

Morgan sold the land and cabin, which was considered a permanent land mark, to Robert Alan Oakes in 1871. His granddaughter gave the cabin to Strecker Museum in memory of their mother, Susan Oakes Gill.

Dr. Bryce Brown, director of Strecker Museum, said records indicate there was only one other cabin in Falls County at the time Morgan built his, and that other house was built and owned by another Morgan.

The public is invited to view the cabin and related display in the museum that is situated in the basement of Sid Richardson Science Building. The museum is open 9 a.m. to noon and 2 to 5 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays. There is no admission charge.

Good Care Means Longer Life For Christmas Tree

The Christmas tree, symbol of the beauty and joy of the holiday season, may present problems as you try to choose just the right tree for your home, advises Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University.

Proper selection and treatment enhance the long-lasting beauty of a Christmas tree, he reminds.

The first rule in selecting the freshest tree is to shop early.

To determine how fresh a tree is, first check the needles. They should be resilient and not brittle when bent. The needles should adhere when you run your fingers down the branch.

Shake or bounce the tree on the ground lightly to see if the needles are firmly attached. If only a few drop, the tree is undoubtedly fresh and is more likely to retain its needles throughout the holiday season.

Trees on the lot always appear smaller than they actually are. Since Christmas trees are sold according to height, it is economically unwise to buy one several feet taller than the ceiling at home.

Look for a tree with a uniform triangular taper. Check to see that it is free of weak, broken or unduly long branches. Also, it should have a well-filled-out look.

WATER VITAL.

Once home, make a diagonal cut at the base of the tree, removing one to two inches of the base. Stand the tree in water and keep the base immersed.

The tree should be stored in a cool, shady spot, indoors or outdoors, until time for decorating.

A Christmas tree with its base immersed in water will remain safe from ignition from a point source, such as a match flame, for at least 3 weeks, if installed reasonably fresh.

Add water to the base container daily to replace amounts absorbed by the tree. A five or six foot tree may use as much as a gallon of water a day. Low humidity found in most heated homes increases the difficulty of keeping the foliage fresh.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Cancer patients in Texas are being aided by information collected by the Texas State Department of Health in its Cancer Registry.

While previous research into cancer is of great benefit to those with the disease today, the future holds more promise because of information being collected on cancer, its treatment and follow-through examinations.

"One of the primary purposes of the Cancer Registry," said Dr. W. S. Brumage, Chief of Special Health Services of the Texas State Department of Health, "is to follow-up cancer patients through their family physicians and hospitals to determine the quality and length of care and survival. Continuation of care to the cancer patient is of primary importance." He said this necessitates a lifetime follow-up and periodic examinations.

The Registry hopefully can provide us with information as to what is the best type of care, he said. This includes surgery, radiation, chemotherapy or a combination of these. "This can be of vital concern to cancer patients of the future," said Dr. Brumage.

SMALL GRAIN TOUR • ST. EDWARD HOSPITAL SET HERE TUESDAY FOR STOCKMEN

A small grain tour to see "Triticale," Wintmore Rye, and Ora Oats for winter grazing is set for 9 a.m. Tuesday, December 8.

The tour will leave from the Cen-Tex Feeders Supply, located on Highway 36 West in Cameron. The tour will include three farms near Cameron, County Agent J. D. Moore said.

Triticale varieties 204 and Dot (209), Wintmore Rye cross, compared to Ora Oats will give stockmen an opportunity to see how these crops withstood the recent cold weather as well as effects of the current stress growing conditions.

Also, a grazing test to measure gain on Triticale grazing will be seen.

The tour should end by 11 a.m. The public is invited and stockmen are urged to attend.

By Lloyd Albertson

The late Dr. Eduard Rischar, to whom the St. Edward Hospital is a memorial, was not only a prominent Cameron surgeon, but also was a philanthropist and civic leader.

His gift of his hospital to the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word was made in October, 1946, about two years before his death.

Dr. Rischar was a native of Bavaria, Germany, and was born there May 30, 1872. He came to the United States with other members of his family when he was eight years old and lived in Illinois.

He was graduated from Iowa's Keokuk Medical College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1900; served his internship in Polyclinic Post Graduate School of Medicine and Surgery in Chicago, and was assistant in clinics for the next six years.

He served as instructor of operative surgery there until 1914 when he came here to help establish the Cameron Hospital with Dr. W. R. Newton, Sr.

He was co-owner of the hospital, which was opened January 5, 1914, and operated it with Dr. Newton until 1940. Following Dr. Newton's death, he purchased the Newton interests and owned and operated it until 1946 when he donated it to the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word.

In making the gift, Dr. Rischar said at the time that he was "motivated by the desire to perpetuate the work of the hospital for the benefit of the people of Cameron and surrounding area."

Dr. Rischar held memberships in The American Medical Association, Chicago Medical Society, Texas State Medical Association, Central Texas and Milam County medical societies. He was made a fellow of the American College of Surgeons on November 1, 1935.

He never married, devoting his life to his work.

Dr. Rischar had been an extensive world traveler, visiting fifteen countries, and in the different countries he availed himself of the opportunity to study in the world important medical centers, including Vienna.

Aside from his medical profession, he was also an accomplished musician. He had studied in Zweibrücken, Mannheim, Kaiserlautern and Cologne. While on vacation during his college and medical school days he played the flute with symphony orchestras and the chautauqua.

During his years in Cameron, Dr. Rischar took a prominent part in the work of the Catholic Church. It is said that he can be given much of the credit for the construction of the beautiful building of St. Monica's Church, when the original building was destroyed by fire. His gifts to the church included a pipe organ installed about 1948.

After his gift of the hospital to the Sisters of Charity, he still had his office there and continued his practice of surgery until his final illness due to a heart condition. He died there on August 1, 1948.

There has been great progress in attacking schizophrenia and we have reduced the total number of schizophrenic patients in mental hospitals. There is no reason to believe that we cannot continue this progress and get to the point where we can effectively detect and treat the early stages in young people.

With F.M.L.

We never trifled our way to civilization.

Preoccupation with hair, skirt length and bad books and movies is peripheral non-involvement.

Essence is why people do or don't do things. Lack of essence is why religion is a one-day-a-week system with corporate holdings, why government is pervasive and resistable, why family is sometimes sharing major consumer purchases, and each sometime little more.

If revolution were the answer, these would have been overthrown. The process of change now underway is evolution. And shifting tides are painful to live through, but necessary.

A breaking off in a country is never clean, always bloody and short of its goals.

Alternatives arise out of comparisons made, of measuring and calculating and taking chances and losses, these minimal compared to the cost of revolution. The result may be more far reaching than revolution and lasting.

Patience, ah patience. We know little of that in this country because our material success exceeds our ability to deal with it. Europeans, Orientals and less progressive areas of the world, going our way, know patience and only now learn of modern success with goods and services.

As long as it is hair, skirt length and bad books and movies, they won't change much. But the way things go in this country, we are changing, we are changing. Trifles and all. Some for the better.

Reserved Auto Tags Ruled Out By Automation

Reserved auto license plate numbers are a thing of the past on regular plates, but special number, name or initial plates may be ordered directly from the Texas Highway Department.

Valter White, county tax officer, said the Texas Highway Department had notified him that because of an automated registration system, no special license numbers may be reserved beginning with the 1971 registration year.

White said regular auto license plates would go on sale February 1.

Personalized license plates should be ordered through the Texas Highway Department. Order forms are available at the County tax office. These plates are limited to 6 letters or numbers. White said. Application fee for the special plates is $10.

White said 13,909 cars were registered in Milam County during 1970.

County Tax Assessor - Collector Valter White said about 80 percent of county taxes have been paid to date. City and Cameron school tax collections, where no early payment discount is allowed, are reported to be slower.

Paul Olbrich, CISD tax officer, said only about 33 percent of the school taxes are in, but he said this is about normal. School taxes were higher this year because the tax rate was changed from $1.50 on 25 percent of actual value to $1 on 50 percent of value.

The school tax roll last year totaled $197,265.29. This year the tax roll is $260,844.71.

City taxes are slightly ahead of normal, according to City Secretary J. P. Fuller. The city tax roll is $116,458.61.

Valter White said $259,713 of the county's $456,026 tax roll had been paid by November 30.

White said voter registration certificates were being returned with tax payments, but said many people had neglected to put their voting precinct number on the registrations. He said the precinct number should be written in a box at the top left corner of the registration certificate.

"When the number is left off our people must go through all the precinct voting lists to complete the form," White said. "If the voter does not know the number of his precinct, he can simply write in the name of the place where he votes."

BREMOND

A history of Robertson County is being published by Texian Press, Waco. It was written by J. W. Baker, longtime Bremond school superintendent, and sponsored by the Robertson County Historical Survey Committee. The book covers a century of Robertson County history, from the 1820's to the 1920's, and is the result of three years of research and work by Baker and members of the book committee, Mrs. Katherine Thompson Galloway, Douglas Adoue McCrary, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jones. The book contains 585 pages with about 400 pictures and maps. Only 750 copies will be available for public sale at $10.

A public hearing on the proposed salary increases has been set for December 14.

30 Apartments To Be Built

HEARNE

The Hearne Housing Authority is advertising for bids for construction of 30 low income apartments. The new units, with two and three bedrooms, will be built west of the existing housing units in Hearne. Bids will be accepted until 2 p.m., January 6. Plans are available from John Charles Allen of Austin.

Property Bids Rejected

SALADO

Salado school trustees rejected bids on three pieces of school property put on the market in an attempt to raise $25,000 needed to meet current bonds and other school expenses. High bids for the property totaled $22,500, $2,500 short of the amount needed. Salado residents voted down a proposal to merge with Belton schools last year and taxpayers now face a possible tax increase of 50 percent.

New Center Planned

TSTI Program To Honor Poage

A program of day-long activities is being held today (Monday) at the James Connally Campus of the Texas State Technical Institute in tribute to U.S. Rep. W. R. Poage.

The day will be climaxed with a dinner at which former Texas Gov. John Connally will be keynote speaker. Set for 6:30 at Ridgewood Country Club, the dinner will be attended by 300 persons from throughout the United States.

Among those attending from Cameron will be Mayor E. A. Perrin, Narvie L. Caperton, Henry J. Litzman, Robert Ellett, Gene Blake, and Ben Hardie Bailey and son Johnny.

At the dinner, a model of the proposed W. R. Poage Land Technology Center will be explained by representatives of Wyatt C. Hedrick Architects and Engineers, Inc. of Houston and Waco.

The three and a half to five million dollar center will be built on the north side of the James Connally Campus.

Attending the activities Monday will be numerous corporate executives from industry and business as well as several political colleagues of Congressman Poage.

Among the Texas Congressmen slated to attend are: James Wright, 12th Congressional District; Ray Roberts, 4th Congressional District; Clark Fisher, 21st Congressional District; Richard White, 16th Congressional District; Kika de la Garza, 15th Congressional District; Omar Burlison, 17th Congressional District; Robert Casey, 22nd Congressional District; and J. J. "Jake" Pickle, 10th Congressional District.

Cong. Carl Albert of the 3rd Congressional District of Oklahoma and majority leader of the U. S. House of Representatives, and B. F. Sikes of the 16th Congressional District of California have also notified Waco officials they will attend.

Poage is being honored for his outstanding service in Washington in behalf of technical education and agriculture.

The proposed center which will bear his name will include a library, administrative offices, faculty conference areas, seminar and conference rooms, a technical learning center, a covered display area, an auditorium which will seat 1,000, an amphitheater, rural leadership development area and numerous other instructional and departmental functions.

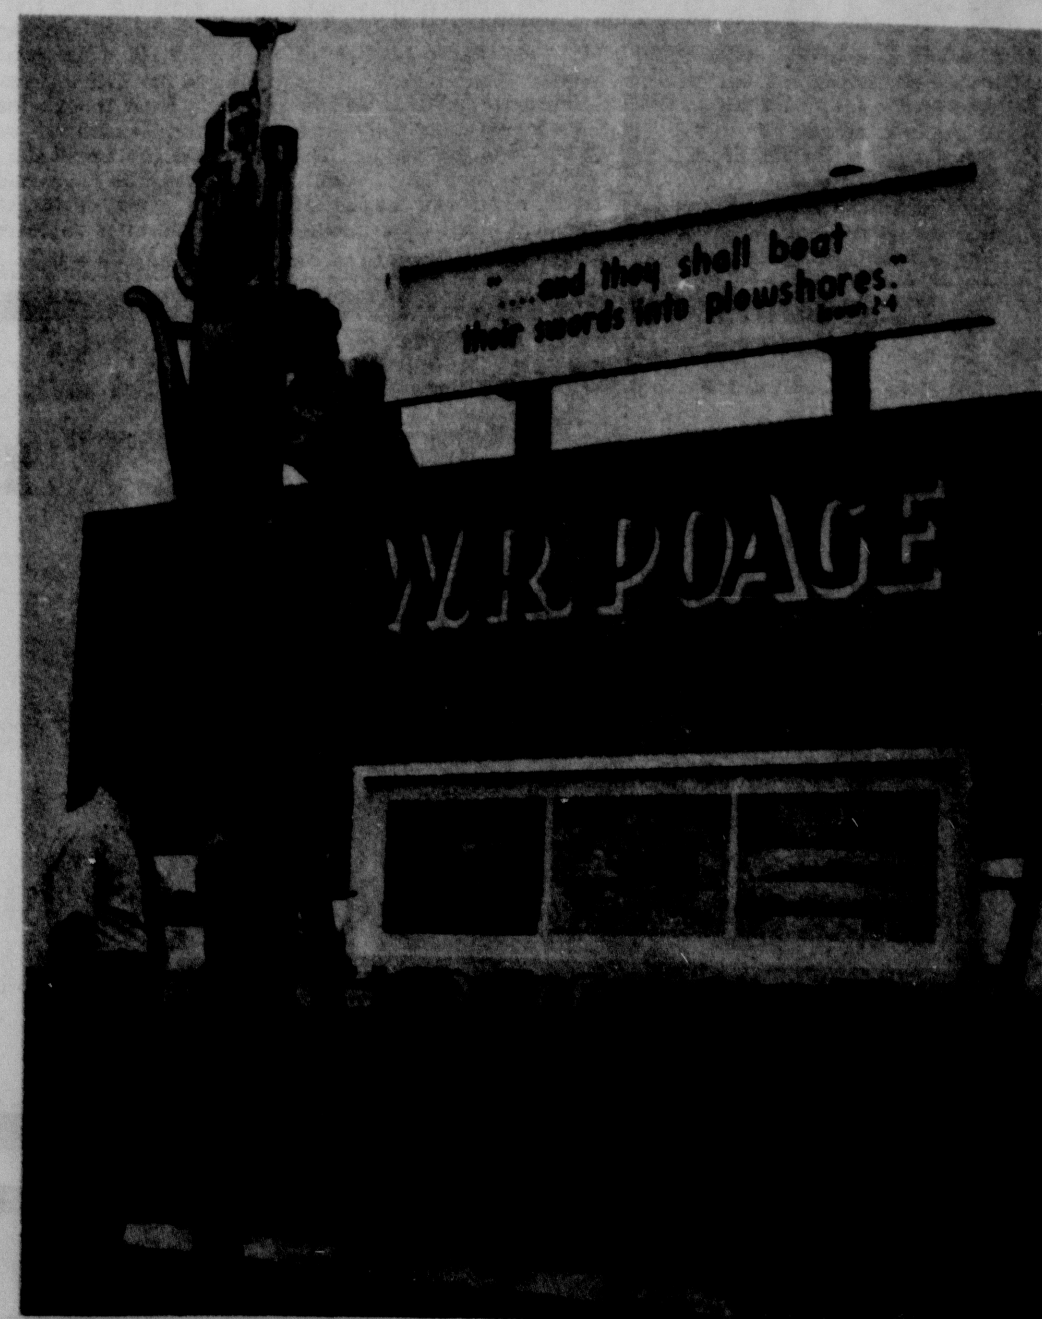

It will be located on approximately 15 acres at the north gate to the Waco campus.

The day's activities get underway early Monday morning when bus loads of high school students, parents and other visitors begin arriving on campus to tour the shops and classrooms. All departments will be open to the public all day.

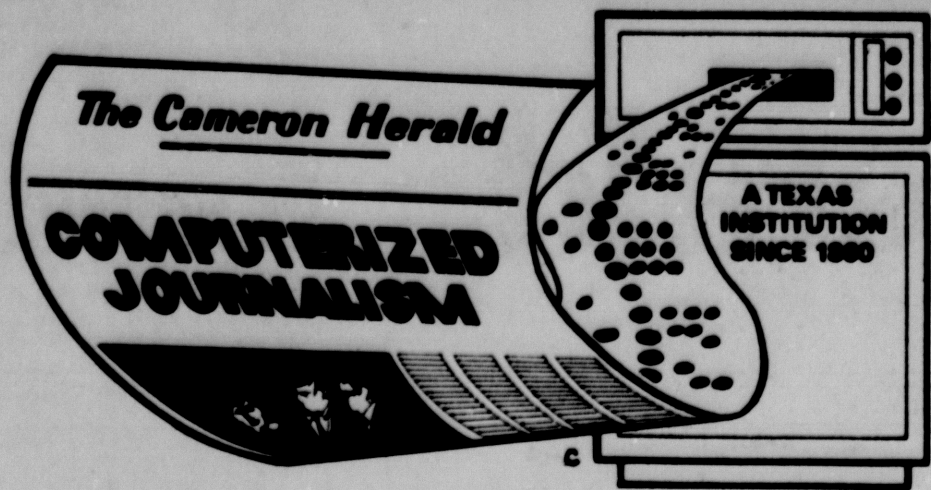

The board of regents of TSTI is scheduled to hold its last meeting of the year at 10 a.m. in the conference room of the executive office building. Chairman of the board, J. H. Kuitgen of Waco, said the board would hear several committee reports and attend a briefing on the proposed Poage Center.

Beginning at 4 p.m., a public reception will be held for Poage in the Student Center. Attending will be many of his fellow U.S. Representatives and his supporters from the 11th Congressional District.

The conceptual model of the new center will be on display at the reception as well as a visual display of activities on all TSTI campuses.

Gifting The Library...

Cameron Library Friends have five categories of membership still open to contributors.

They are: honorary, $25; supporting, $15; sustaining, $10; individual, $5; and student, $1.

We encourage you to contribute to the Friends of Library membership drive because of the books these contributions buy and other library services enabled by contribution.

About $1,000 has been given,

but the fund drive committee continues to work for support to approach previous years' totals of about $1,350, which means more than $1,000 would go into library fund service and book coffers.

We encourage your gift, if you have not given. The Cameron Public Library is an asset, like schools, too often taken for granted.

It's the Christmas season. Remember your library too.

Every Intelligent Element...

It's good to see Yoe High School catch up with other modern high schools by bringing in college representatives for a "College Night."

It is another improvement needed in the CISD system, one among several implemented this year, including broader emphasis on all sports, construction of a homemaking building, involvement of honor society students in the POW issue and others.

College is not for all people or even most, as we are falsely persuaded at times. But this exposure to the various curricula of 20 institutions will assist students in narrowing their choices for a school or whether they should try technical training of some kind.

The kindest thing advisors can do for students is to head off misguided ambitions or to encourage talent which for some reason needs encouragement.

We say "good for Yoe High School and Principal John Chubb". Yoe High School needs every innovation and intelligent element working for it, like any school system, to give its graduates what is best for them.

In one case, a woman had never been told about an insurance policy bought by her husband's employer. Several months after his death, she happened to find out about the insurance—and put in her claim at once.

Even though the policy called for "immediate" notice of death, the court held she could still collect. The judge said "immediate," in these circumstances, meant right after she learned of the policy's existence.

Entry Deadline Near For Ft. Worth Stock Show

Officials of the 75th Diamond Anniversary Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 29 through Feb. 7, 1971, anticipate an exceptionally fine livestock show as the final deadline draws near.

Stock Show President - Manager W. R. Watt, in reminding exhibitors of the deadline dates, said, "Based on the entry cards I've seen, this year's show will have more than 11,000 head of livestock. We're happy too, at the growing number of entries by young people."

Cattle entries include more than 1,000 head of top commercial Hereford heifers consigned to a special show - sell auction. "These heifers represent the best from Hereford breeders in the Southwest," Watt said. "The sale will be an excellent opportunity for farmers and ranchers to pick up top quality replacement heifers for their herds."

Deadline for entries in the cattle, horses, sheep and swine contests is Dec. 15, 1970. Poultry, rabbit and pigeon exhibitors have until Jan. 15, 1971 to submit entries.

CAMERON'S PARADE OF SPORTS

BARREL RACING - Martha Lynn McDermott, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lyle McDermott of Cameron, and Smoky display perfect co-ordination (and concentration) as they go into a turn round the barrel during a FFA Rodeo last fall at Clifton. Barrel racing has become a major part of the modern rodeo, where competition is really keen. The sport requires a lot of practice on the part of both rider and the horse, for the turns must be made at breakneck speed. Notice the action here - horse and rider poised in that delicate balance required for winners.

Will Imitation Bacon Put Hogs Out Of Business?

COLLEGE STATION

Coming events often cast shadows. Could a recent publication from the Economic Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture fit this category? asks Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist.

The report had to do with six months of testing in Fort Wayne, Indiana of a substitute for bacon. The USDA sponsored market test was conducted by a private research company under contract with the manufacturer of the new striplike bacon analog.

Most of the users of the new product found it acceptable but continued to use real bacon, noted Uvacek. It was implied, he said, that this lack of substitution was only a short-run effect and that over the long-haul, continued purchases of the bacon analog might have a permanent substitution effect.

And what was its composition? It contains 14 ingredients -- wheat, soy and yeast proteins, water, corn oil, egg albumen, salt, U.S. certified color, seasonings, monosodium glutamate, vegetable gum, flavorings and nucleotides. The manufacturer's analysis yields 6.3 grams of protein, 3.1 grams of fat, 3.3 carbohydrate, 1.4 ash, .3 of fiber and 14.36 moisture.

Advertising, noted the specialist, pointed to the differences between the analog and bacon. The analog is precooked, does not shrink during cooking, contains little or no cholesterol, and has only one-third the calories of bacon. The price was held constant at 69-cents for an 8-ounce package containing 32 slices. In contrast, the usual pound package of bacon contains 20 slices. On the basis of, as served, the analog cost was approximately half of that for bacon.

Uvacek said the only bright note in the report was this statement: "Use of data from this market test does not in any way constitute endorsement of the product or process by the Department or imply discrimination against other similar products or processes."

And, concludes Uvacek, in these days of low hog prices and a weakening of returns from feeder calves, such developments are not encouraging.

Preparation Aids Winter Weed Control

COLLEGE STATION

Next year's cotton yields can be influenced by soil management and weed control practices during the upcoming winter months. Timely land preparation, says Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, is the first step for a successful weed control program.

Uncontrolled winter weeds, he adds, are moisture and plant food robbers, both vital to top production. In addition to regular land preparation, Elliott lists as major weed control methods those that can be carried out with machinery or through the use of chemicals.

The mechanical methods include bedding and rebedding, bed shaping, Roll N' Cultivator, row disk, hippin' ridger, do-all and in West Texas the bed knifing tool does an excellent job. Elliott says cotton producers have a wide choice of materials available for chemical weed control. Two are soil incorporated herbicides. Planavin and Treflan. Many growers, he adds, look with considerable favor on these materials and they can be applied beginning in late November or in December in South Texas.

A popular method of application is with the roto-tiller or roto-vator. They may also be incorporated into the soil by broadcast disking with the tandem disks.

These herbicides keep winter weeds under control if conditions are normal until planting time. Under high moisture conditions, he adds, it is often necessary to treat again just before planting for the control of early Johnsongrass. DSMA alone or in combination with a material such as Karmek is excellent. For those who do not wish to use soil incorporated herbicides, mechanical methods are recommended.

The round purple inspection stamp on beef, veal and lamb is made with edible vegetable dye and need not be removed.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Drugs By The Department Is The Story At Dusek's

When you say drug store, you mean drug department store at Dusek's.

When you say pharmacy, you mean three registered pharmacists - Alvin and son Bernay, and Franklin Dusek.

A walk through Dusek's is a walk through a departmentalized listing of cosmetic, pharmaceutical and gift notion "who's who." Dusek's has it.

Several ladies are kept busy serving the customers who find what they want.

Just a sampling of what brands are available: Timex watches, Westclox, clocks, Parke - Davis first aid notions, Sheaffer's pens, BIC pens, foster grant sunglasses, Russell Stover and King's chocolates.

Cosmetics, both men's and women's, headline shelves of name brands like: Black Belt, Max Factor, Old Spice, Tussy, Coty's elan, L'Zimant, Imprevu, Emeraude, Revlon, Ogilvie, Jergens, Noxzema, Gillette, Vaseline, Aqua Velva to name a few of the quite-a-few.

Pharmacists Alvin, Franklin and Bernay stay busy. One clerk helps type orders as the prescriptions are filled by the professionals. Lines of shelves in walls of pharmaceuticals await the need of a doctor's prescription, whatever the ill.

Delivery is to the home, without additional cost, the day you need the prescription. The pharmacy is as professional as gifts and drugs throughout the store are complete.

The usual line of tobacco products, cigars, cigarettes, pipes, pipe tobacco are near the entrance for convenience.

Magazines, newspapers, comics and pocketbooks are available. Christmas and remembrance cards for all occasions by Ambassador and RustCraft await.

Personal articles are also near the front, neatly arranged and gift items like Sunbeam appliances are nearby. Gift items like ashtrays, kitchen bric-a-brac, personal items and notions of all kinds are there.

Yes, Dusek's has it. Only in recent years, the operation expanded into a wider store and the pharmacy department and storage areas were completely remodeled.

An inventory of brandnames and professional pharmacy services are the name of the game. That's why Dusek's has it for pharmaceuticals and departmentalized drugs and notions.

THE DUSEKS - Bernay, Franklin, and Alvin, are shown with staff - Jo Ann Thompson, behind counter, and in front

Apparel, Accessories For Christmas at Carousel

Mrs. Denson Rubac, new owner of the newly named Carousel, women's shop, is featuring women's lines of apparel and accessories at 202 North Fannin.

Christmas shoppers will find a carousel in the middle of a variety of children's and women's apparel in prices ranging in women's dresses from $10 to $35.

Mrs. Rubac purchased the Back Door Shoppe children and teen clothing shops and established the Carousel in October. Mrs. Lucille Prokisch assists Mrs. Rubac in sales.

The variety of clothing ranges from toddler's to women's styles, dresses, pant suits, new children's lines of various kinds.

The Christmas shopper will find jewelry for juniors and children as well as clothing lines, purses, bags, even "sleeping bags".

Brands among women's clothing selections include knits by Wacket, Mr. Paul of California, Justin-McCarty and Parkland of Dallas.

A complete line of ladies gowns, sleepwear, slips, lingerie, stockings and pantyhose are among Carousel's merchandise.

Any Christmas purchase over $10 is beautifully wrapped free. But gift wrapping is more than putting a "piece of paper and some string" around a package, Mrs. Rubac notes.

"Pant suits are popular this season," Mrs. Rubac says. "And we find that maxis are good for the holiday season, for special occasion. We have several maxi numbers."

Style then is important to Carousel as it is to the style conscious woman shopper at Christmas time.

Mrs. Rubac has business experience a world apart from a children's and women's shop, but managing a large chicken ranch gives her a background for knowing how to run a modern business and make it grow. She is a native of the Milano area.

Mrs. Rubac invites all her friends and customers to view the Carousel's Christmas merchandise. There is a pleasing variety to choose from for style conscious shoppers.

CAROUSEL owner Mrs. Denson Rubac, right, is assisted by Mrs. Lucille Prokisch as they complete holiday decorations for the shop.

Camels To Jets In 25 Years

Jeddah, Saudi Arabia—(HK)—Twenty-five years or more ago, it took 25 to 30 days to travel by camel caravan from this Red Sea port city to Riyadh, the capital, some 660 miles to the east. Today, a Saudi Arabian Airlines DC-9 jet makes the trip non-stop in one hour and 15 minutes.

The story of how the "camel set" gave way to the jet age in Saudi Arabia had its beginning in 1945 with the gift of a DC-3 from President Franklin D. Roosevelt to King Abdul Aziz ibn Saud shortly after the historic wartime meeting of these two heads of state. So delighted was the ruler of the desert kingdom with the gift, that he ordered five more DC-3's, and Saudi Arabia had an airline. Soon realizing that to run an airline takes many trained pilots, mechanics, tower controllers, meteorologists, radiomen and engineers—plus airstrips, hangars, repair shops, sales offices, fueling facilities, financing, record-keeping, planning and initiative—the Saudi Government in 1950 retained Trans World Airlines to help provide these services.

Today, twenty-five years after America's gift of the first DC-3, Saudi Arabian Airlines (SDI) has become the largest commercial carrier in the Middle East, with a total of 26 planes, including four Boeing 707 and 720 jets and four DC-9 jets. Of the 68 captains and 52 first officers on SDI's staff, 30 and 40, respectively, are Saudi nationals, most of them trained in the U.S. under rigorous FAA procedures. SDI has one of the safest flying records of any major carrier. Its planes fly 38,000 route miles, serve 47 cities in 20 countries on 3 continents. The government-owned airline provides employment for more than 3,900 people, a figure almost certain to grow in the years ahead in the fast-developing nation.

A female dragon fly, such as the one that sits on the tip of your rod, will lay up to 100,000 eggs and there are 412 known species of the dragon fly in the United States.

Teen Talk Corner

By Marian C. Holden

It is a lucky girl (or boy) who is not plagued with some skin problems during their teen years. The oil glands are extremely overactive during these troublesome years, leaving the skin with acne. Acne is a disease of the sebaceous (oil) glands. This is a local condition (confined usually to the face, neck, and sometimes the back) and can be controlled with lots of T.L.C. (tender loving care).

If your diet is poor your skin just won't make it. Sweets, creams, fats, white breads, too much starch, soda pop and fried foods must be eliminated from your diet as these help cause overactive oil glands.

Consult your doctor for a good diet and treatment if acne persists or worsens. Plenty of fresh air, at least eight glasses of water a day, proper elimination and daily bathing are necessary for controlling acne.

Your daily routine should include a thorough cleansing of your skin morning and night without fail. The object in treating acne is to reduce the oiliness of the skin. Blackheads are the beginning of acne, so by removing them you are eliminating the root of the problem. They should be removed under sterile conditions, never pick or stick them with a pin. Instead, try the following: first remove all make-up and dirt from your skin with a good cleansing cream. Apply a steaming towel wrung out of hot water. When the towel is cool, reheat and apply again. Do this three times. This procedure opens the pores of the skin allowing dirt and grime to come to the surface. After steaming your face, apply an acne preparation (preferably a dry wash cleanser).

Check with your druggist as to which acne treatments can be used as a dry wash. Pat the cleanser over the entire face, except for the eye area.

Let it dry, then remove it with a steaming towel. Gentle, very gently without much pressure, remove the blackheads. Now, sponge your face with an antiseptic lotion. I would like to point out the absolute necessity of clean hands; never treat your face if you haven't first thoroughly washed your hands.

Keeping your hair clean is also extremely important for a blemish free complexion. If your hair is oily, shampoo it at least twice a week. For in-between care sponge the hair with cotton dipped in alcohol to remove oil and dirt, especially around the face. Dirty, oily hair causes acne, when worn on the face as today's styles are.

Your face is now ready for a medicated make-up if desired. Ordinary make-up should never be used where there is an acne problem. Better still, just pat on a lotion designed for acne or a simple boric acid solution.

With your T.L.C. your acne problems can practically vanish, you will be pleased with the results.

135-Yr-Old Cabin Given To Baylor U

A 135-year-old log cabin, one of the first built in Falls County, has been given to Strecker Museum at Baylor University.

Recently dismantled at its original site and moved to the museum, the cabin has been re-assembled and is on view to the public.

The cabin was situated on land granted to George W. Morgan by the Mexican government on Sept. 9, 1835, while Texas was a part of the state of Coahuila, Mexico.

By Mexican law, Morgan was required to establish permanent land marks and cultivate the land within one year of the grant to hold the deed.

Morgan sold the land and cabin, which was considered a permanent land mark, to Robert Alan Oakes in 1871. His granddaughters gave the cabin to Strecker Museum in memory of their mother, Susan Oakes Gill.

Dr. Bryce Brown, director of Strecker Museum, said records indicate there was only one other cabin in Falls County at the time Morgan built his, and that other house was built and owned by another Morgan.

The public is invited to view the cabin and related display in the museum that is situated in the basement of Sid Richardson Science Building. The museum is open 9 a.m. to noon and 2 to 5 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays. There is no admission charge.

Good Care Means Longer Life For Christmas Tree

The Christmas tree, symbol of the beauty and joy of the holiday season, may present problems as you try to choose just the right tree for your home, advises Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University.

Proper selection and treatment enhance the long-lasting beauty of a Christmas tree, he reminds. The first rule in selecting the freest tree is to shop early. To determine how fresh a tree is, first check the needles. They should be resilient and not brittle when bent. The needles should adhere when you run your fingers down the branch.

Shake or bounce the tree on the ground lightly to see if the needles are firmly attached. If only a few drop, the tree is undoubtedly fresh and is more likely to retain its needles throughout the holiday season. Trees on the lot always appear smaller than they actually are. Since Christmas trees are sold according to height, it is economically unwise to buy one several feet taller than the ceiling at home.

Look for a tree with a uniform triangular taper. Check to see that it is free of weak, broken or unduly long branches. Also, it should have a well-filled-out look.

WATER VITAL

Once home, make a diagonal cut at the base of the tree, removing one to two inches of the base. Stand the tree in water and keep the base immersed. The tree should be stored in a cool, shady spot, indoors or outdoors, until time for decorating.

A Christmas tree with its base immersed in water will remain safe from ignition from a point source, such as a match flame, for at least 3 weeks, if installed reasonably fresh.

Add water to the base container daily to replace amounts absorbed by the tree. A five or six foot tree may use as much as a gallon of water a day. Low humidity found in most heated homes increases the difficulty of keeping the foliage fresh.

Locate the tree so that it is not in the air stream of heating vents or near other sources of heat. Use a fire screen before a fireplace to contain flying sparks.

Keep the Christmas tree lighting system in good order. Inspect and discard wires with frayed insulation, broken sockets and loose connections. Don't buy strings of lights unless they have the UL label.

Keep the base of the tree free from combustibles. Remove combustible Christmas wrappings as soon as possible.

SMALL GRAIN TOUR • ST. EDWARD HOSPITAL SET HERE TUESDAY FOR STOCKMEN

A small grain tour to see "Triticale," Wintmore Rye, and Ora Oats for winter grazing is set for 9 a.m. Tuesday, December 8.

The tour will leave from the Cen-Tex Feeders Supply, located on Hiway 36 West in Cameron. The tour will include three farms near Cameron. County Agent J. D. Moore said.

Triticale varieties 204 and Dot (209), Wintmore Rye cross, compared to Ora Oats will give stockmen an opportunity to see how these crops withstood the recent cold weather as well as effects of the current stress growing conditions.

Also, a grazing test to measure gain on Triticale grazing will be seen.

The tour should end by 11 a.m. The public is invited and stockmen are urged to attend.

By Lloyd Albertson

The late Dr. Eduard Rischar, to whom the St. Edward Hospital is a memorial, was not only a prominent Cameron surgeon, but also a philanthropist and civic leader.

His gift of his hospital to the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word was made in October, 1946, about two years before his death.

Dr. Rischar was a native of Bavaria, Germany, and was born there May 30, 1872. He came to the United States with other members of his family when he was eight years old and lived in Illinois.

He was graduated from Iowa's Keokuk Medical College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1900; served his internship in Polyclinic Post Graduate School of Medicine and Surgery in Chicago, and was assistant in clinics for the next six years.

He served as instructor of operative surgery there until 1914 when he came here to help establish the Cameron Hospital with Dr. W. R. Newton, Sr.

He was co-owner of the hospital, which was opened January 5, 1914, and operated it with Dr. Newton until 1940. Following Dr. Newton's death, he purchased the Newton interests and owned and operated it until 1946 when he donated it to the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word.

In making the gift, Dr. Rischar said at the time that he was "motivated by the desire to perpetuate the work of the hospital for the benefit of the people of Cameron and surrounding area."

Dr. Rischar held memberships in The American Medical Association, Chicago Medical Society, Texas State Medical Association, Central Texas and Milam County medical societies. He was made a fellow of the American College of Surgeons on November 1, 1935.

He never married, devoting his life to his work.

Dr. Rischar had been an extensive world traveler, visiting fifteen countries, and in the different countries he availed himself of the opportunity to study in the world important medical centers, including Vienna.

Aside from his medical profession, he was also an accomplished musician. He had studied in Zweibrücken, Mannheim, Kaiserlautern and Cologne. While on vacation during his college and medical school days he played the flute with symphony orchestras and the chautauqua. During his years in Cameron, Dr. Rischar took a prominent part in the work of the Catholic Church. It is said that he can be given much of the credit for the construction of the beautiful building of St. Monica's Church, when the original building was destroyed by fire. His gifts to the church included a pipe organ installed about 1948.

After his gift of the hospital to the Sisters of Charity, he still had his office there and continued his practice of surgery until his final illness due to a heart condition. He died there on August 1, 1948.

There has been great progress in attacking schizophrenia and we have reduced the total number of schizophrenic patients in mental hospitals. There is no reason to believe that we cannot continue this progress and get to the point where we can effectively detect and treat the early stages in young people.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Cancer patients in Texas are being aided by information collected by the Texas State Department of Health in its Cancer Registry.

While previous research into cancer is of great benefit to those with the disease today, the future holds more promise because of information being collected on cancer, its treatment and follow-through examinations. "One of the primary purposes of the Cancer Registry," said Dr. W. S. Brumage, Chief of Special Health Services of the Texas State Department of Health, "is to follow-up cancer patients through their family physicians and hospitals to determine the quality and length of care and survival. Continuation of care to the cancer patient is of primary importance." He said this necessitates a lifetime follow-up and periodic examinations.

The Registry hopefully can provide us with information as to what is the best type of care, he said. This includes surgery, radiation, chemotherapy or a combination of these. "This can be of vital concern to cancer patients of the future," said Dr. Brumage.

The Registry had its start in 1949 and was housed at M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. It operated under sponsorship of the Texas Cancer Coordination Council and was composed of volunteer hospitals which provided records of cancer cases and follow-up exams. On the council were the State Health Department, M.D. Anderson Hospital, Texas Medical Association, Texas Dental Association and Texas Division, American Cancer Society.

In 1959 the State Health Department took over sponsorship and designed a local hospital cancer registry booklet.

Dr. Brumage said the local hospital or clinic is the base on which the Registry is built. This operational procedure is approved by the American College of Surgeons.

Information from the participating hospital or clinic is put on the Texas State Department of Health computer. More than 100,000 persons are on the Registry now. Some 30,000 new cancer cases were reported in Texas in 1969.
